

College Ethics Symposium

Fast Chat – The purpose of this activity is to allow you time to get to know other participants outside of your small groups. We learned from student feedback that interactions with others was important to them.

You will have 2 opportunities to spend face-to-face time with other students. The first opportunity is when you first arrive on Thursday afternoon. The second is during lunch on Friday afternoon.

In the central meeting area, you will find 2 sets of chairs facing each other. Please invite someone you do not know to sit across from you. You will find a 3 minute timer at each set of chairs. Shake hands and have at it. Take 3 minutes and talk about anything you like. Below is a list of ideas that may help break the ice. You can take more or less time if you like, but in order to maximize the number of people you'll be able to meet during your time on Hilton Head Island try to keep your discussions brief, about 3 minutes. Of course, there will be other times to talk further if you hit it off with someone. Over lunch or on the Vagabond Cruise are great times to have more in-depth discussions.
